Polynomials
Lesson 5.1 Multiplying Polynomials

To multiply a monomial by a polynomial, we use the distributive property.
Before we continue, let's look at a square with unknown side.

Eg1. A square has four equal sides, with length x cm.

a) Find its area.

using algebra tiles:

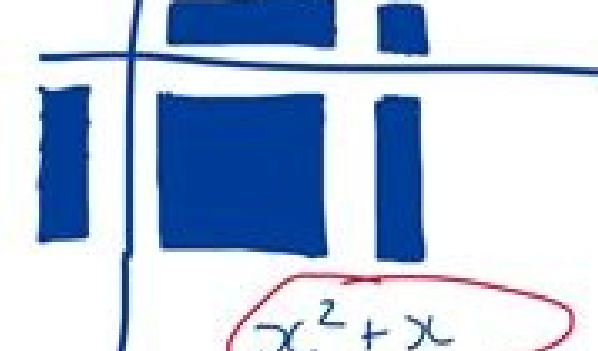

using distributive property:

$$A = s \cdot s = s^2$$

$$A = x^2$$

b) If the square is to be stretched sideways by 1 cm. Find its new area.

using algebra tiles:

using distributive property:

$$A = L \times w$$

$$A = L \times (w+1)$$

$$A = x \times (x+1) \quad A = x^2 + x$$

c) Further, the height of the rectangle is lengthened by 2 cm. Find its final area.

using algebra tiles:

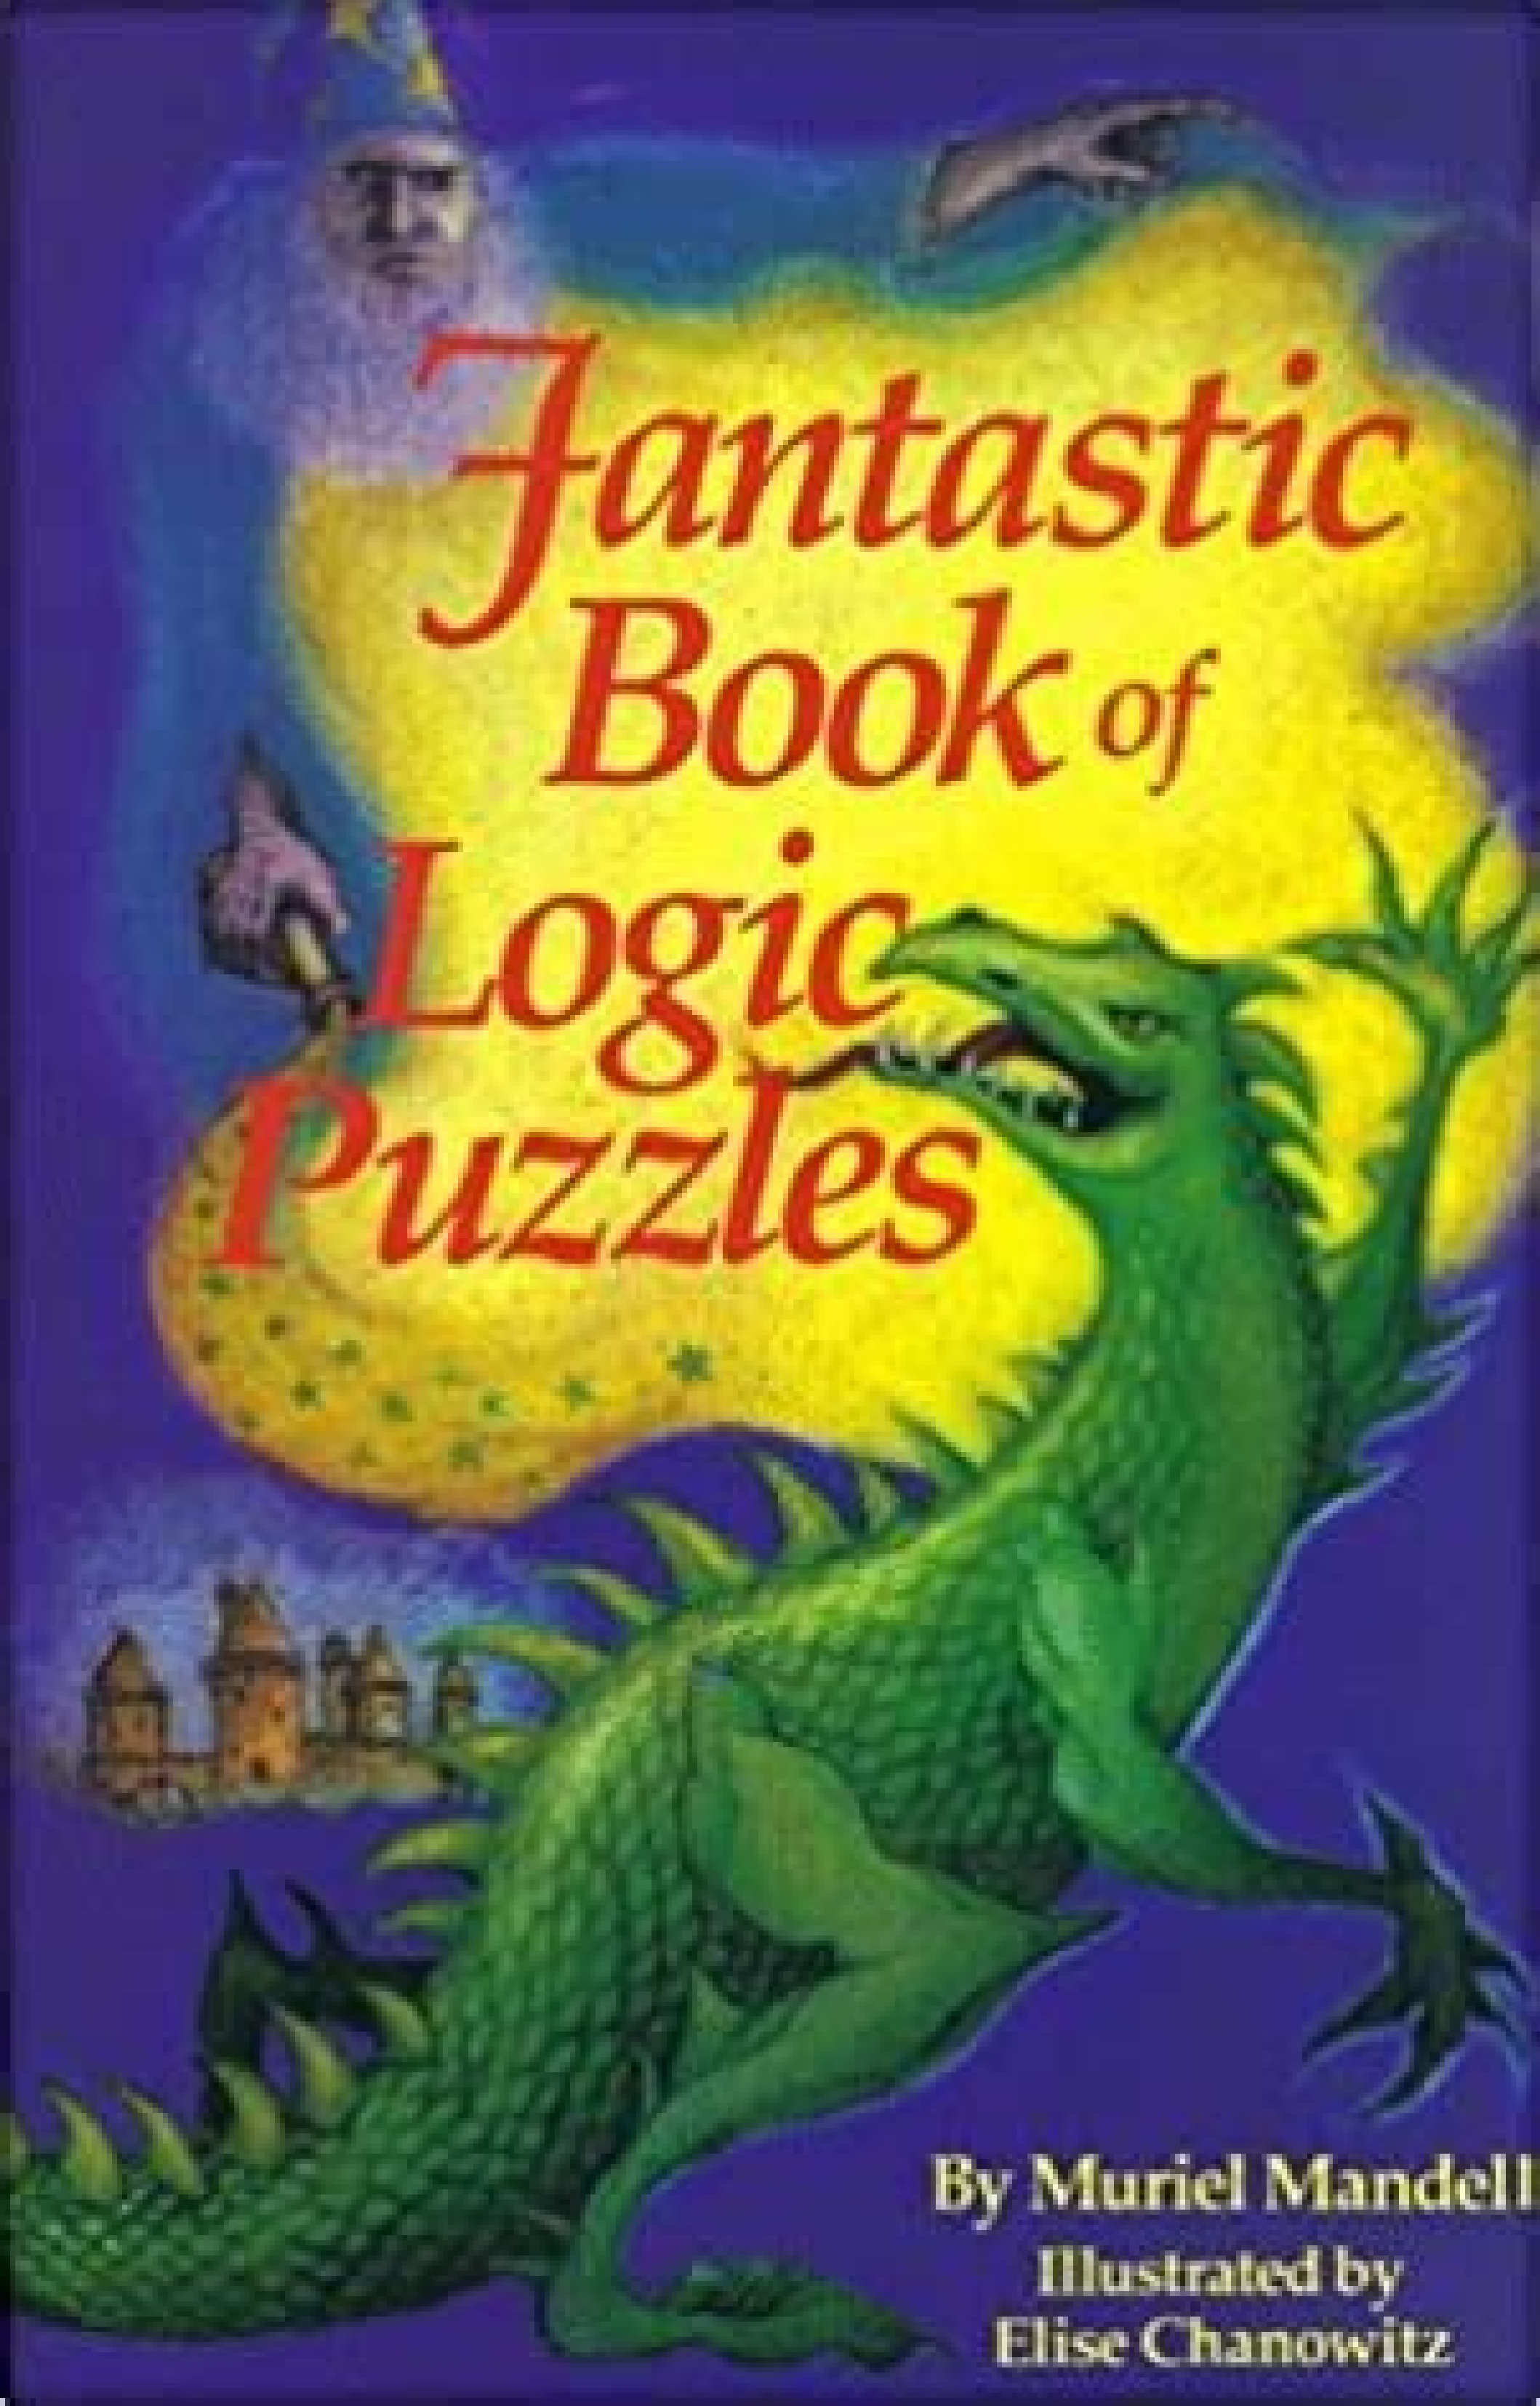

using distributive property:

$$A = L \times w$$

$$A = (x+2) \times (x+1)$$

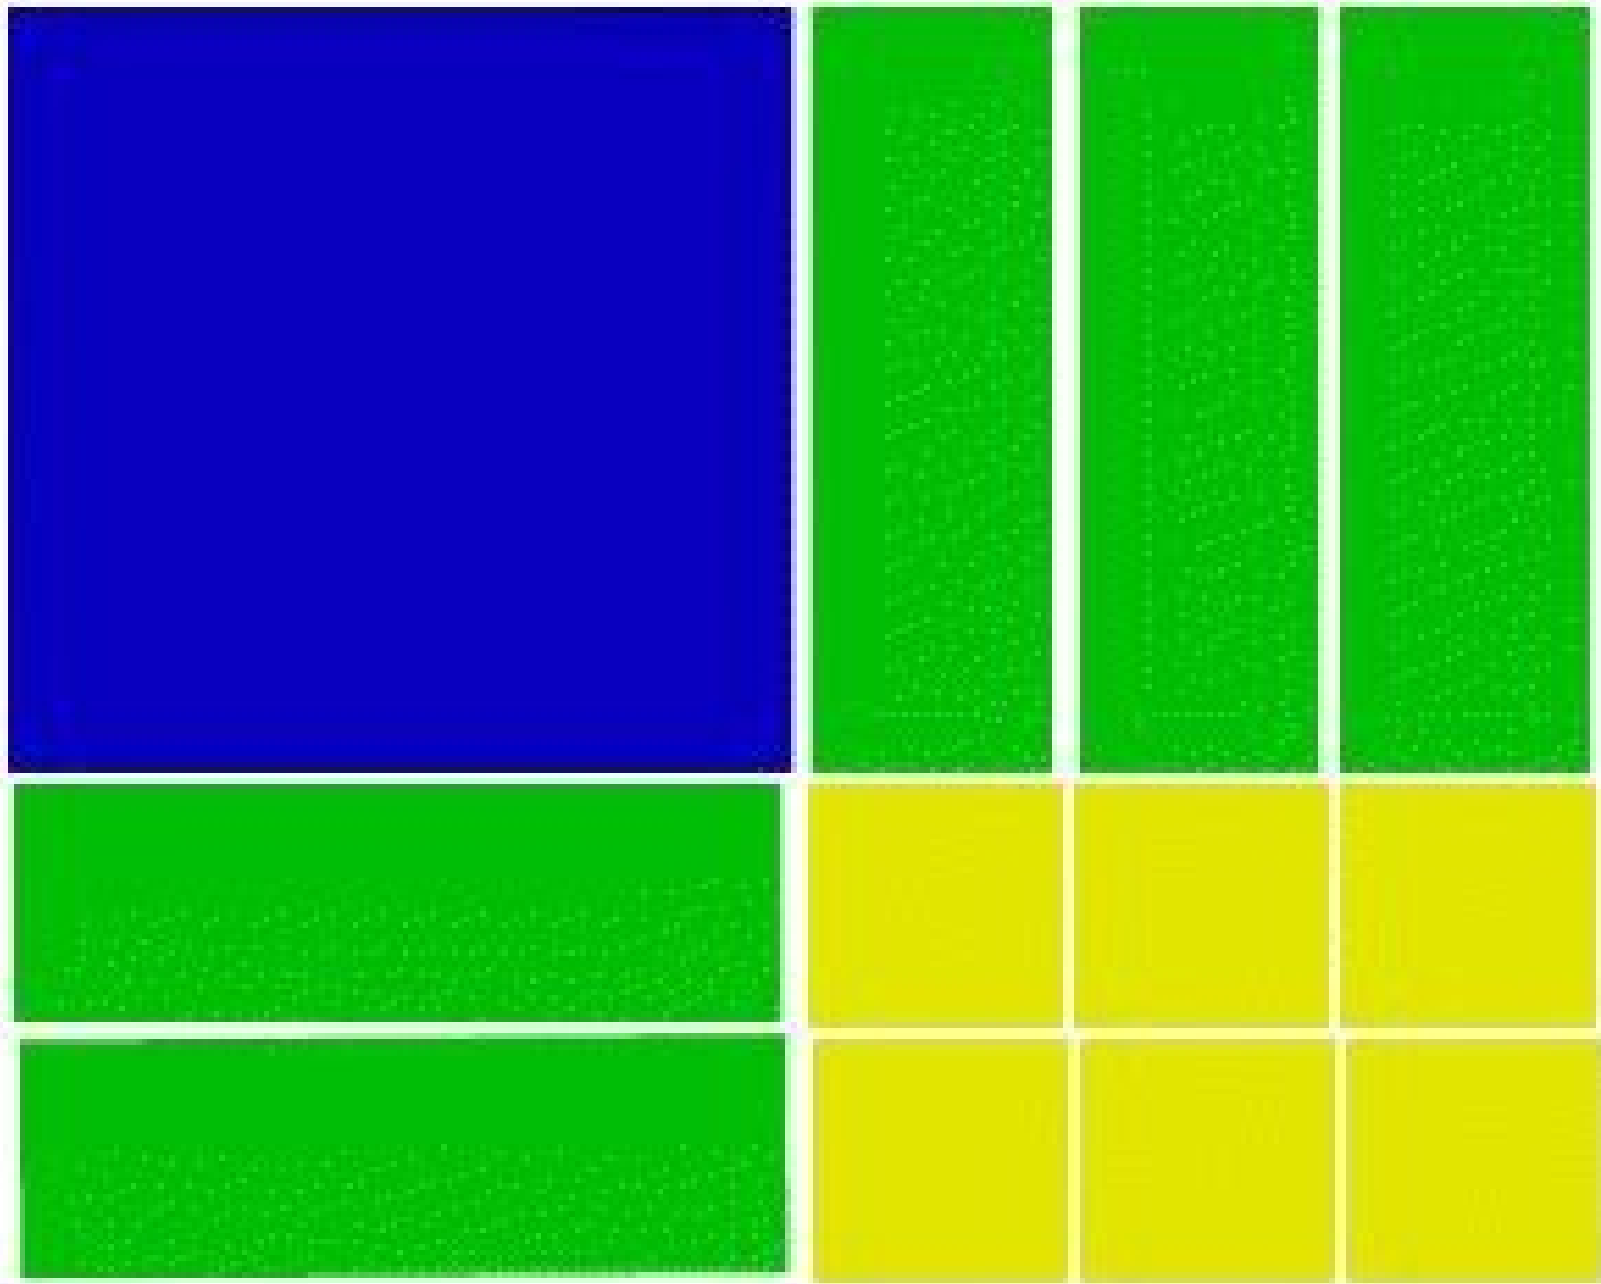

$$A = x^2 + x + 2x + 2$$

$$A = x^2 + 3x + 2$$

x + 3

x + 2
